Instructions

1. Choose your five behaviors and put their names at the top, with the most important at the center and the least important outboard.

2. Pick a separate color for each day of the week and highlight that day (above)

3. Start at the center top of the chart

4. Using the color of the day, color in one block for each single-behavior session.

5. Every time you move outboard on the chart your next session must be for a behavior more toward the center
